TUESDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1862.

FROM THE INTERIOR.

FROM Mendoza we hear that the state of things is as bad as ever. Mr Vincent Maure had been arrested for refusing to allow a street to be cut through his property, unless a law were passed for that purpose. In Mendoza they have a good way of settling such disputes—popped Don Vincente into prison, and held him there until the road was cut through, and fairly established. The walls of the house were cut down, and the road cut through Don Vincente's dining-room and kitchen. The Governor doesn't seem to stop at trifles, and thinks as little of knocking a man's house down as he does of putting a citizen in prison, without trial, verdict, sentence, or anything of the kind.

From Parana we have received "El Litoral." Nothing can be more gloomy than the state of things in Parana; trade seems to have completely fled from the city; the tribunals are all in statu [illegible] the recovery of a debt is [illegible] than even the bor[illegible]ney. D. Jose Mara[illegible] the national squad[illegible]resent in Parana. The [illegible]revolution and distur[illegible] Paz are without [illegible]thing going on [illegible] to last dates: [illegible]axes is rather [illegible] some parts of [illegible]the tax collec[illegible]quently to resort to [illegible] sending the defaul[illegible]dose.

[illegible]orrientes we hear the [illegible]ring news about cotton. It has rained most [illegible], and the plants are in [illegible] condition; cattle are very fat, and some saladeristas have commenced operations. The estancieros complain greatly of the price, but, with hides at so low a figure, it is impossible that they can expect more.

In Santa Fé, Governor Cullen has swept the whole frontier line and the Indians whom he has captured he has distributed amongst his friends, not forgetting to send a few down to General Mitre.

In Cordoba, the great topic of the day is the railway and the new bank. We regret to be obliged to condemn the banking system proposed; but we have so much bad paper in Buenos Ayres, that we feel it incumbent on us to caution our Cordova friends against the evil.

From Rosario to Cordova there is a cry for the railway, and nothing but the railway. Every one offers his mite towards the formation of the company. Mr Wheelright is anxiously looked for. We venture to offer a piece of advice to the provincianos: help us with cotton; let every man, who can, sow a square of cotton, and then no doubt can exist as to the building of the railway. In Rosario, where many intelligent foreigners reside, we hope to meet with every assistance. Let the watchword throughout the country be—"Cotton!" Every man who wishes to plant it, should be helped. If the provincianos will take our advice, and second us in our cotton efforts, we will soon want half a dozen more steamers on the river, and railroad stations throughout the country.

Rioja is, we hear, the province most neglected in the whole republic. With a soil the most fertile in South America, it can boast of scarcely an export. Lamentable in the extreme is it to think that such a rich province should be so terribly neglected. It contains mines of inexhaustible wealth, yet there is scarcely a man in the world who could give an exact statement of the imports and exports. Rioja is in its present impoverished condition, for the want of immigration and cheap transit.

The road from Cordova to Rioja is but a trackway, impassable in many parts, on account of the pantanos. The farmers have no market for their produce, and the wine, etc, has to be consumed by the producers themselves.

THE OCEAN CIRCUS.

The grand performance of this equestrian troupe came off on Saturday evening, for the joint benefit of the British Hospital and the Sociedad de Beneficencia. Although the Co., had declared its intention to give no more entertainments, the Director generously made an exception in favor of the above charities, and even exceeded the customary liberality by defraying out of his own pocket all the expenses of the night. About 1800 persons were present, the amphitheatre being densely crowded, and we learn, with satisfaction, that the receipts amounted to 100,000 $ m/c. President Mitre and Gov. Saavedra, with some of the Ministers, honored the performance with their presence, and most of the leading foreign and native families assisted at the amusement which had for object the relief of suffering humanity. Most of the boxes and lunetas had been taken at double the price stipulated [100$ and 100] shewing that high prices did not deter the public, so much as the newspapers would make us believe. Even the Gradas were filled by a crowd of respectable citizens, and our city has not seen, for a long time, so numerous and select an audience.

The performances commenced at 8 1/4, with a triumphal entry of knights and ladies, which was artistically gone through. The Olympic exercises by the Co. were admirable, and the feats of the brothers Tournaire, on horseback, could not be excelled. Sr. Fernando also acquitted himself creditably, leaping through hoops; little Bella in her management of the two ponies merited a handsome bouquet, and Sra Davenport exhibited a surprising degree of muscular flexibility. But Miss Kate Ormond created quite an enthusiasm by her graceful equestrian evolutions; and Mr. Rogers with his celebrated pony, Hiram, eclipsed all the rest. The youthful Amazon received a magnificent floral offering from Emilio infant son of the President, and the spirited Director was complimented by a like manifestation on the part of the joint committees benefited. The Brazilian rider surpassed the agility of an Indian, and the gymnastic exercises on the trapeze were very good. The pantomine of Katrina wound up the entertainment, the heroine coming in for a second Proof of popular admiration. All present seemed highly pleased, and the Director's generous efforts were so completely successful that a friend of ours pithily, observed "to-night the Ocean Circus has annihilated press opposition."

Benefits are not always lucrative for the object indicated, as we have lately seen by that of the Typographic Society which produced nothing except a letter of condolence from the performers. Seldom, however, has any charity of Buenos Aires acknowledged such golden returns as have just fallen to the British Hospital and Beneficent Society. Messrs Parish, Getting, and Miró were indefatigable in canvassing the charitable speculation, but a meed of praise is also due to the artists who laboured so cheerfully for the same purpose of philanthropy.

We are happy to perceive that our equestrian and aerobatic friends have resolved to re-open for public amusement on New Year's night. Indeed we never believed brother Jonathan so sensitive about newspaper criticism as to shut his doors in the face of a full house. The recent hostilities have re-doubled the general anxiety to judge, by ocular experience, of the merits of the Ocean Circus, and we anticipate such a decided run in its favor that the "indigestion of the box-office" may really occur, not from want of aliment, but rather from plethoric excess. The idea of giving four nights weekly is an improvement, and we have only to regret the obstinate adhesion to double prices which is so much at variance with the recent openhanded liberality of Mr. Rogers. The Circus has gained a complete triumph over the bilious critics of the Tribuna and allies: the public is unanimously disposed to protect the Co: we ourselves, partly perhaps from a fellow-feeling to foreigners, have invariably espoused their cause—but a concession is due in return; double prices are intolerable, whether for opera hippodrome, newspaper, or gas—Delenda est Carthago! Let Mr. Rogers set a good example, and we augur him a New Year of profit and popularity.

ARGENTINE FINANCES.

THE evils of the paper-currency are at present happily limited to Buenos Ayres and Corrientes. So long as they are held within these bounds, there is always some hope that, when we get a good, practical financier as Minister, this paper trash will be replaced by a sound, convertible currency, and the European Banking system established.

We have watched, with some anxiety, the difficulties and impediments thrown in the way of currency reform, but confess that, in our humble opinion, direct opposition is less injurious to the question than imaginary and illusory schemes emanating from official quarters, which are as impracticable as [illegible] to bring the office of Hacienda into disrepute.

But it is strikingly remarkable that, whilst we find admitted on all sides, the necessity of reforming the currency, and putting it on a safe basis, in Cordova the legislature has passed a law for the establishment of a paper bank, without any of those necessary restraints which, unhappily for Buenos Aires, have been so long disregarded.

If the National Finance Minister has power to interfere in the matter, we demand that he investigate the subject, before we have Cordova and the other provinces flooded with an unredeemable paper, which will ruin commerce and deprive industry of its gains. Nothing is more required in the interior than a good bank. Land-lie waste, industry is at a stand still, and the inhabitants live in ignorance and indolence, because the very vitality of a country is wanting—capital. We hear much said about immigration, but so long as the inhabitants themselves even though willing, can find no employment, from the sheer want of a few dollars to buy seed and implements, what necessity is there for increasing the population? Cordova and every other province in the republic should have its bank: in proportion to the trade and industry, should be their emission; but every dollar issued should have its representative in value, if not in gold and silver, at least in public lands at a low valuation. The proposed Cordovan bank is unsafe and dangerous in the extreme, and in its present shape should not be permitted to be established.

We are now entering on a new year, and hope the Minister of Hacienda will turn over a new leaf. Candidly speaking, we consider that the present gentleman who is in office, with all his learning and erudition, is not the man for the office which he holds. We are told that the financial position of the republic is critical; that the exchequer is exhausted, and that the Nat. Goverement is almost penniless. If such be the case, we cannot give due expression that General Mitre should confide so important a post to so unsuccessful an officer. A young, unincumbered country, abounding with resources, enjoying a good and popular government, is, we are told, put about for a few dollars. If the Argentine republic were bent down by a heavy national debt—if its character and credit were blasted by the stigma of repudiation and dishonor—then indeed we might feel that the office of Minister de Hacienda was an arduous and and unable post. But happily such is not the case with us, and if Gen. Mitre feels himself now pinched for funds, or means to work his government, we are greatly afraid the proximate and principal cause is that his Finance Minister is "not the man for Galway."

CLAIMS AGAINST MONTE VIDEO.

The demands of English and French residents against the Oriental Republic, arising out of injuries sustained during the civil wars, have grown so old as almost to be forgotten. At least, it is certain that several of our subscribers on either side of the Plate have lost all hope. No wonder that Mr. Lettsom should have thought the matter of such minor importance as not to merit publication in the only English paper of these countries for the reason he sent the following notice to El Pais, a journal which could scarcely fall into the hands of 12 Englishmen in as many months.

Perhaps we do wrong in reproducing the notice, but as we believe the object should be to acquaint our countrymen of its import, we beg to take the liberty of doing so, without Mr. Lettsom's [illegible]peration.

NOTICE TO ENGLISH AND FRENCH CLAIMANTS FOR INJURIES BY WAR. English and French claimants are requested to present with out delay [illegible] their claims to calle del Rincon' No. 111 and the French claimants to calle do 33 No. 184.

CHASCOMUS RAILWAY

The contract and statutes of the Southern Railway have been approved of by Government, to the satisfaction of the attorneys of the company.

FOREIGN MISCELLANY.

SETTLEMENT OF AN OLD CLAIM.—A rather old political debt has been paid this week. For the last fifty years diplomatic conferences have been going on between Brazil and Spain concerning damages claimed by subjects of both countries for losses sustained in the South American struggles. Finally, a mixed commission was appointed to settle the matter, which decided that Brazil should pay to Spain 775 contos de reis and Spain to Brazil 175 contos. The balance of 600 contos, or about £64,000, was handed over a few days ago by the Brazilian Ambassador at Madrid to the Spanish Government. The costs in this pretty little international chancery suit are said to amount to several millions sterling.

THE IRISH HARVEST OF 1862.—With the single exception of the lamentable season of 1816, the present harvest is the latest known in Ireland for the last 60 years. It has been said by those who remember the season of 1816 that the grain was then to be seen out in the fields at the end of October, but in the present year in the first week of November not only are there large quantities of oats still out in the corn lands, but in the mountainous districts many fields are yet unreaped. When with this remarkable lateness of the season we couple the lamentable decrease in the acreable produce of nearly every district, the subject excites a very grave interest, affecting as it does the prospects of farmers and farm labourers, in the first instance, and next those of the mercantile and general community. So far as relates to the grain now ungathered, a great proportion of it will only be fit for fodder. The oat crop raised on the "model" farm at Mr[illegible] is about the most melancholy exhibition of grain growing ever seen in lowland districts. Any sturdy old woman could carry, with ease, three of the stunted stooks, and as for yield, portions of it lying near the line of the Ulster Railway will probably not exceed six bushels to the acre. Altogether the season from the beginning of February last down to the present has been very unfavourable. Rains almost continuously poured over the earth, and even in the intervals of dry weather the absence of heat was much against healthy vegetation. Low-lying soils were saturated with upper water throughout the greater part of the spring months, and, even in cases where drainage had been effectively carried out, it was found difficult to get the seed into the ground. Early in the year very extensive preparations had been made for potato planting, but such was the ungenial state of the weather that the original intention of many farmers was given up and the land so prepared has to be sown with turnips. The result has been that one fifth of the breadth of land which had been set apart for potatoes in several counties could not be got finished with that crop and was ultimately used for other purposes. Whether in consequence of the so unfavourable changes in the seasons, or because of a growing disposition on the part of farmers to narrow the bound of cultivated land, certain it is that each year shows a narrower area of corn and root crops. Within the last [illegible] years the ground occupied in potatoes has been lessened by 150,000 acres, and during the same period the decrease in wheat lands has been about 500,000 acres. Altogether the reduction in the area of cereal crops in Ireland [illegible] has been reduced from [illegible] to 2,552,223 acres in 1862. So far as thrashing has been carried on during the last few weeks, the turn-out of wheat and oats has fallen far under the lowest average of the past 25 years. Only last week a farmer resident in one of the finest and most fertile districts within a ten-mile circle of Belfast, sold the produce of a six-acre field of wheat, and the total weight of the whole was only a ton and a half! The same farmer has often, in peculiar seasons, raised off the same land 40 bushels to the statute acre, and his average for the six years ending with '61 was 33 bushels per acre. This is not a solitary case, for one grower who has been fortunate enough to take 20 bushels of his wheat lands there might be found a dozen whose crop will not exceed 12 bushels to the acre. Oats are equally deficient in bulk. Half a ton to the acre is a rare turn-out, the great proportion of the later land falling considerably short of this amount. Some few instances have been mentioned in which the yield was so high as 20 cwt. to the acre, but these are but exceptions.

LOCAL EVENTS.

GENERAL WEBB.—American minister at Rio Janeiro has arrived at Monte Video and is expected here in a few days. We salute our American friend, and welcome him not only as a minister but also as the distinguished ex-editor of the New York Courier & Enquirer.

A NEW LYRIC COMPANY has arrived from Monte Video of which the prima donna is Mr[illegible] Constanza Mazzini and the [illegible]gnor Ballerini. We hope [illegible] successor will merit good [illegible] which we entertain for her and her Company.

THE BUFFES.—Continue at Monte Video where they have extended their performances from two or three which was their original intention to a dozen already.

THE PATRIA of Rosario has lost the subvention which the Provincial Government paid.

DOLORES. The question between the foreigners and authorities of the place is not yet arranged—in the meantime we hear there is great excitement, notwithstanding the presence of the Government Commissioner S. Martin [illegible].

EDUCATION [illegible]. The budget of the province of Santa Fé assigns to the bands of music which play at the plaza of Rosario three or four times as much as to the whole of the schools in the province. Under these circumstances it is not to be wondered that the Republic does not improve as it should do, for they spend in luxuries what they curtail from primary necessities which are too long to enumerate.

COTTON SEED. Our petition to the Government for the free admission of cotton seed and gins has been granted.
